CABERNET SAUVIGNON

2012

In the glass, the wine is unrestrained in its aromatic expression. Notes of dried flowers, fresh cut strawberries, kirsch and baking spices fill the room as the wine is being poured.

On the palate, intense flavors of dark chocolate, cherry liqueur, sandalwood and smoke take hold. The texture is that of crushed velvet, soft and plush, but with a density and concentration that speak of great ageability.

This young wine is impressive just at opening; however, with a gentle decanting and in the glass it continues to open to reveal multiple layers of interest and complexity. Given the strength it is showing in its youth, the wine should age well for 15 to 20 years in bottle.
